ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Carlisle L. St. Martin, MD is a neurologist in independent private practice in Forest Hills, Queens, with more than four decades in medicine. A graduate of SUNY Downstate Medical Center College of Medicine, he cares for patients with disorders of the brain, spine and peripheral nervous system, including headache and movement disorders. He is the kind of experienced, community-based independent doctor TSCN was created to connect and support, and he is recognized within TSCN as a Member Doctor Emeritus.

The evening

- ◆ Dinner and networking among independent doctors and attorneys
- ◆ "Medicine Without Walls" — Dr. St. Martin
- ◆ TSCN today: where the network stands and what comes next
- ◆ Open discussion and questions

For TSCN member doctors, and for doctors and attorneys who want to learn how TSCN connects independent practices through care coordination, referral pathways and shared technology.
